Dear Parents and Carers,

What a wonderful day we all enjoyed at school yesterday. World Book Day is such an important opportunity to promote a love of reading, I do hope the children had as much fun as the staff!!

Today I was pleased to welcome John Milne MP to the school. He enjoyed a tour to all classes and met with our school council. He reported being very impressed! He also had morning tea with all staff where we were able to offer our own opinions and challenges. Overall this was a positive experience for all concerned!

Apologies for the brief message today ... it has been an incredibly busy, but enjoyable few days. Made even better with the beautiful weather. Let's hope this is a sign of things to come.

Have an enjoyable weekend.

Mrs Newbold

School Value - Responsibility

You are all aware of how important school values are to us. Something that has struck me on the gate this week is the amount of parents carrying their childrens bags, book bags, projects etc. into school each morning. It would be wonderful to see the children having the responsibility for their own belongings wherever possible! This would support our continued messaging here at school about taking care of the things around us!

Celebration

Congratulations to everyone who has impressed this week!

Mrs Newbold
